IN RE: Applicant:

APPLICATION:

IN BEHALF OF APPLICANT: Self-represented

INSTRUCTIONS:

This is the decision in your case. All documents have been returned to the office which originally decided your case. Any further inquiry must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied or the analysis used in reaching the decision was inconsistent with the information provided or with precedent decisions, you may file a motion to reconsider. Such a motion must state the reasons for reconsideration and be supported by any pertinent precedent decisions. Any motion to reconsider must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider, as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.5(a)(1)(i).

If you have new or additional information which you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reopen. Such a motion must state the new facts to be proved at the reopened proceeding and be supported by affidavits or other documentary evidence. Any motion to reopen must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reopen, except that failure to file before this period expires may be excused in the discretion of the Service where it is demonstrated that the delay was reasonable and beyond the control of the applicant or petitioner. Id.

Any motion must be filed with the office which originally decided your case along with a fee of $110 as required under 8 C.F.R. 103.7.

FOR THE ASSOCIATE COMMISSIONER,
EXAMINATIONS

Terrance M. O'Reilly, Director
Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The application was denied by the District Director, Chicago, Illinois, and is now before the Associate Commissioner for Examinations on appeal. The appeal has been filed by an attorney whose standing in this matter has not been demonstrated by the filing of a properly executed Notice of Entry of Appearance as Attorney or Representative (Form G-28). In the interest of due process, however, the case will be considered on certification pursuant to 8 C.F.R. 103.4. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant was born on October 4, 1977 in Hanoi, Vietnam, to a father, [REDACTED] and to a mother, [REDACTED]. On October 22, 1962, [REDACTED] a native and citizen of Vietnam who became a naturalized U.S. citizen in November 1999, married [REDACTED] a native and citizen of Vietnam who became a naturalized U.S. citizen in November 1998. The applicant was admitted to the United States on May 24, 1991, as a nonimmigrant visitor and was adopted by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] on May 24, 1993. The applicant is seeking a certificate of citizenship under § 322 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. 1433.

The district director reviewed the provisions of § 322 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. 1433, regarding the acquisition of a certificate of citizenship for an adopted child who was born outside of the United States. The district director concluded that the applicant had not satisfied the regulations relating to this section of the Act and denied the application accordingly.

On appeal, the applicant states that the application was filed on June 13, 1995 more than three months before his 18th birthday, and he had substantially complied with the requirements. The applicant states that repeated inquiries were made to the Service but no response was received until nearly three years later when he received the district director's decision. The applicant states that such a delay amounts to affirmative misconduct.

As a general rule, all of the laws relating to derivative citizenship require a combination of elements having a simultaneous existence before a son or daughter arrives at a specified age. The sequence in which these elements come into being is immaterial. Determinations involving derivative citizenship are governed by the law in effect when the last material element is completed. See INTERP 320.1(a)(1).

Section 322 of the Act provides, in part, that:

(a) APPLICATION OF CITIZEN PARENTS: REQUIREMENTS.-A parent who is a citizen of the United States may apply to the Attorney General for a certificate of citizenship on behalf of a child born outside the United States. The Attorney General shall issue such a certificate of citizenship upon proof to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that the following conditions have been fulfilled:

(1) At least one parent is a citizen of the United States, whether by birth or naturalization.

(2) The child is physically present in the United States pursuant to a lawful admission.

(3) The child is under the age of 18 years and in the legal custody of the citizen parent.

(4) If the citizen parent is an adoptive parent of the child, the child was adopted by the citizen parent before the child reached the age of 16 years and the child meets the requirements for being a child under subparagraph (E) or (F) of § 101(b)(1).

(5) If the citizen parent has not been physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less than 5 years, at least 2 of which were after attaining the age of 14 years-

(A) The child is residing permanently in the United States with the citizen parent, pursuant to a lawful admission for permanent residence, or

(B) A citizen parent of the citizen parent has been physically present in the United States or its outlying possessions for a period or periods totaling not less than 5 years, at least 2 of which were after attaining the age of 14 years.

(b) ATTAINMENT OF CITIZENSHIP STATUS; RECEIPT OF CERTIFICATE.-Upon approval of the application (which may be filed abroad) and, except as provided in the last sentence of § 337(a), upon taking and subscribing before an officer of the Service within the United States to the oath of allegiance required by this Act of an applicant for naturalization, the child shall become a citizen of the United States and shall be furnished by the Attorney General with a certificate of citizenship.

8 C.F.R. 322.2(a) provides that to be eligible for naturalization under § 322 of the Act, a child on whose behalf an application for naturalization has been filed by a parent who is, at the time of filing, a citizen of the United States, must:

(1) Be unmarried and under 18 years of age, both at the time of application and at the time of admission to citizenship;

(2) Reside permanently in the United States, in the physical and legal custody of the applying citizen parent, pursuant to a lawful admission;

(3) Be a person of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and favorably disposed toward the good order and happiness of the United States; a child under the age of 14 will generally be presumed to satisfy this requirement;

(4) Comply with other requirements for naturalization as provided in the Act.... (Emphasis supplied.)

An alien may acquire citizenship only upon strict compliance with the requirements that Congress has established by statute. INS v. Pangilinan, 486 U.S. 876, 884 (1988). The record reflects that the applicant became 18 years old on October 4, 1995, and prior to his admission to citizenship. Since the applicant cannot satisfy all the regulations, he is not eligible for a certificate of citizenship.

8 C.F.R. 341.2(c) provides that the burden of proof shall be on the claimant to establish the claimed citizenship by a preponderance of the evidence. The applicant has failed to provide that evidence. Therefore, the appeal will be dismissed.

This decision is without prejudice to the applicant's seeking U.S. citizenship through normal naturalization procedures by filing an Application for Naturalization on Form N-400 with a Service office having jurisdiction over his residence.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
